CHARLES ADAMS,

March 25 - AGENT FOR NEW CASSES COUNTY.

Seves cesturies before the Christian cra, a prince of one of the royal families of India, having exhausted, in his twenty-ninth year, all the pleasures of the world, and having in him one of the deepest, most comprehensive, and most creative human intellects, suddenly abandoned in diagust his palace, his family, his treasures, and his state; took the name of Gotama, which means, "he who kill the senses;" became a religious mendiennt; walked a-bout in a shroud taken from the dead body of a female slave; taught, preached, and gathered about him a body of enthusiastic disciples, bound together by the most efficient of all ecclesiatical organizations; dictated or inspired works which, as now published by the Chinese government in four languages, occupy eight hundred volumes; and died at the age of eighty, the founder of Buddhism religion. Compared with this man, Mahonet was an ignorant and ferocious barbarian; and the proudest names in Western philosophy lose a little of their lustre when placed by the side of this thinker, who grappled with the greatest problems of existence with the mightiest force of conception and reasoning. As a philosopher he anticipated both the idealism of Berkeley and the positivism of Comet; as a political thinker, he anticipated the noblest truth of our "Declaration of Independance," and twenty-five hundred years ago he taught, against the caste system of India, the doctrine of the equality of men; and, in that region of influence, higher than that in which either philosophy or statesmanship works, he founded a religion which is now professed by two-fifths of the human race, and which thus exceeds, in the number of its votaries, that of any other religion in the world. Buddhism has been corrupted by a fantastic mythology, but its essential principal, derived from its founder's disgust of existence, is, that life is not worth living, and that the extinction of life is the highest reward of virtue. To pass, in the next world, through various penal or purifying transmigrations, until you re the nominal believers in Cbrist. The infection of the doctrine as an interpretation of human experience is so great, that comparatively few have altogether escaped its influence. In basing his religion on this disease of human nature, Gotama showed profounder sugacity than that evinced by any other founder of a false religion; and in the East this disease presented its most despairing phase, for there weariness of life was associated both with the satiety of the rich and the wretchedness of the poor.

But whence comes this disgust of life? We answer, from the comparative absence of life. No man feels it who feels the abounding reality of spiritual existence glowing within him; for rightly sings the poet—

"Whatever crazy sorrow saith, No life that breathes with human breath Has ever truly longed for death.

"Tis life, whereof our nerves are scant, O life, not death for which we pant; More life, and fuller, that we want!"

-Atlantic Monthly.

A WONDERFUL CITY IS LONDON."

It is four times more populous than New York and St. Petersburg, twice as populous as Constatinople, has two-thirds more people in it than Paris, and one-fourth more than Pekin. It contains as many people as Scotland, twice as many as Denmark, and three times the number of Urecee. Every eight minutes, night and day, one person dies; every five minutes one is born. Eight hundred thousand have been added to the population since 1851. Only half a million of all this population attend, would require to have seen anillion of absences who, if inclined to attend, would require to have 800 new places of worship built; 100,000 peopl; work on aundays; there are 140,000 habitual gin drinkers; 190,000 intoxicated people taken every year off the streets; 100,000 fallen women; 10,000 profesional gamblers; 20,000 children trained to crime; 30,000 thieves and receivers of stolen goods. There are 10,000 public houses and beer shops, frequented regularly by 500,000 persons. In every 800 of the population one is insane. There is one baker for every 1,206 persons; one butcher for every 1,206 persons; one butcher for every 1,553; one grocer for every 1,500; and one policeman for every 008 inhabitant. On the other hand, out of 60,000 street Araba, 30,000 one ext ragged schools. There are 400 Bible women; 850 city missionaries; and 20,000 persons attending public worship in the theatets overy Sunday evening. It is a world—in itself,

While attapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for inchipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against studen attacks of Crossp., it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them. Although settled Consumption is thought in curable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery of the constant of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Bingers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronehitle is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. For a Cough and Cold. no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is abscaled.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is verceone.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until ne disease is overcome, the disease is overcome.

No family should be without the Cherry Pretoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other sid.
